

SCORECARD

ON THE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE
SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS (SDGS)
IN 11 STATES IN NIGERIA

DEVELOPED BY EDUCATION AS A VACCINE (EVA)

Nigeria and Millennium Development Goals (MDGs)

Nigeria was among the 189 countries that endorsed the United Nations Millennium Declaration in New York in September 2000, which led to the adoption of the 8 Millennium Development Goals with several targets and indicators to be achieved by 2015. Nigeria commenced implementation in 2005. The Presidential Committees on the Assessment and Monitoring of the MDGs and the Office of the Senior Special Assistant to the President on MDGs were established to coordinate and monitor the implementation. A review of the MDGs implementation in Nigeria showed that the country registered mixed results across the goals, geographic areas and gender groups. The slow pace of progress notwithstanding, Nigeria recorded success stories in areas such as universal primary enrolment and gender parity in education (i.e. ensuring equity in the enrolment of boys and girls in schools), reduction in the spread of HIV/AIDs, decline in maternal and child mortality, as well as combating hunger. The major achievements Nigeria made was the eradication of polio and reduction in child mortality. However, there was no significant improvement for issues such as gender equality, violence against women and girls, universal access to sexual and reproductive health (SHR), promoting inclusive economic growth amongst others.

Transition from MDGs to SDGs in Nigeria

The introduction of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) was as a result of the unfinished business of the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) for millions of people around the world. At the expiration of the MDGs in 2015, it became obvious that nation states needed to do more in order to end hunger, achieve gender equality, improve health services, ensure child education, etc. In September 2015, world leaders adopted a new comprehensive, ambitious and transformational development agenda of 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and 169 targets. The goals were chosen from a global consultation process and Nigeria participated actively in the consultation process.

Thereafter, the Nigerian President, Muhammadu Buhari established the Office of the Senior Special Assistant to the President (OSSAP) and appointed a Senior Special Assistant on SDGs with the responsibility to ensure the coordination of development policies, plans and strategies for the implementation of the SDGs. Similarly, an Inter-Ministerial Committee on the SDGs was established and operational guidelines were developed in order to guide the coordinated engagement between Ministries, Departments and Agencies (MDAs). The national government also developed the Nigeria Economic Recovery and Growth Plan (NERGP) which to an extent aligns to the SDGs. Some state governments have also mainstreamed SDGs into their states' Development Plans while some developed an Operational Plan with SDG activities. Some states have put structures in place and appointed Special Assistants to the Governors on the SDGs while some states are obviously lagging behind in all these areas

Social Accountability and the SDG

Social accountability is a form of vertical accountability that advances the engagement of citizens beyond the election process and allows them to actively monitor government's activities. In order to efficiently and effectively implement the SDGs, all stakeholders must be involved. In particular, the citizens of implementing countries must ensure that governments at all levels deliver on their commitments to implement the SDGs. Hence, activities like citizen report cards on service quality, adequacy and efficiency are important in ensuring that governments fulfil their promises. The outcomes of such exercises are used to hold governments to account through media messaging, advocacy, campaigning, etc.

Why and how is EVA working on Social Accountability for SDG?

EVA is a youth-led and youth-focused organization that works in partnership with children and young people to advance their rights to health and protection from all forms of violence. Using youth-friendly approaches, the organisation builds and strengthens the capacity of young people and helps them engage directly with policymakers and lawmakers for social change in the areas of health, child protection and education through integrated programming. As an organisation that focuses on vulnerable groups like children and young people, EVA believes that social accountability that ensures the Nigerian government effectively implement the SDGs will translate to the improvement of the lives of its target group. EVA is the Country Focal Organisation for The ACT!2030 Alliance. The Alliance is a long term youth social mobilization strategy that involves behind the scenes political lobbying and advocacy, as well as a broad systematic support to identify youth advocates at local, state and national levels. These advocates are equipped with skills and knowledge to ensure that governments are held accountable to their promises on the implementation of the SDGs. In particular, these advocates work to ensure that the universal access to young people's Sexual and Reproductive Health and Rights (SRHR) are met with the inclusion of comprehensive sexuality education and youth friendly health services in the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. The Project is currently in its 4th phase which, focuses on tracking progress towards the 2030 Agenda through youth led data driven social accountability measures to provide evidence based data for advocacy that will ensure adolescents and young people engagement in the implementation of the SDGs. This includes monitoring the indicators process and seeing that adolescents and young people's issues are fully captured and measured in the indicators.

Two key achievements of our advocacy efforts were;

- Through the active advocacy of the advocates during the United Nations General Assembly Special Session (UNGASS), the Nigerian President did not make any reservation on Adolescents and Young People's (AYP) SRHR instead, he pledged to eradicate the HIV/AIDs epidemic in all of its forms;
- The ACT! 2015 Alliance has been recognized as a youth led network in Nigeria and now participates in advocacy of Sexual and Reproductive health and Rights for young people and the implementation of SDGs in Nigeria.

Goal and Objectives of this Scorecard Process

This is a sub national analysis of implementation of the SDGs. We chose to do this because we know implementation is at sub national level, that's where people are and because Nigeria has autonomous states and little is being done to hold states accountable.

Goal: Track and document sub national implementation of the SDG, especially as it relates to adolescents and young people.

Objectives:

- Assess the setting up of institutional mechanisms for implementing SDGs at state level
- Determine level of integration of SDGs into state plans and budget
- Ascertain the nature and extent to which CSOs and AYP in particular are involved in the SDG process at state level
- Identify the status and scope of implementation so far, especially as it relates to AYP
- Engage young people in the process as a strategy to strengthen youth led social accountability.

Methodology

To ensure that young people at the state level actively engage with decision makers on accountability through the implementation of the SDGs, EVA worked with its Alliance Members (young advocates 15 – 24 years) at the state level to gather information for the Scorecard. Our Alliance Members tracked the implementation through direct interaction with designated SDG Focal Persons in the states and completion of a designed questionnaire that EVA developed in partnership with the Alliance members. Our Advocacy team also reached out to the Focal Persons to verify claims. The outcomes of these engagements and interface with the Focal Persons were used to develop this Scorecard.

We envisage that this Scorecard will draw the attention of relevant state governments on the noticeable gaps that exist in the implementation of the SDGs and the need to do more in order to achieve state and national targets in the implementation of the SDGs. Secondly, CSOs and interested individuals can use this Scorecard for advocacy purposes and help in pushing for more action from state governments. This Scorecard also serves as an alternative to the report Nigerian government will present at the forthcoming High Level Political Forum (HLPF), particularly, as it concerns SDGs implementation at the state level in Nigeria.

Recommendations

- The OSSAP office and equivalent offices at state level as the main focal points for the implementation of the SDGs in Nigeria should take the lead by ensuring that all processes towards the implementation of the SDGs are well coordinated.
- All relevant government agencies at federal and state levels should ensure transparency in the process of implementing the SDGs and engage CSOs and young people in the process.
- For Nigeria to make progress in the implementation of the SDGs, there is a need to ensure that relevant national and state agencies work in synergy.
- Easy access to information from relevant government agencies as it relates to their activities in the implementation of the SDGs.
- There is need for cooperation between federal and state governments in the implementation process. as advocates on ground advocated that the SDG process and planning is on going but actual implementation is yet to begin.
